Poole was not heavily recruited out of high school and ended up playing for the University of Michigan. He struggled to find his footing in his first two seasons with the Wolverines, averaging just 6.1 points per game. But in his junior year, everything changed. Poole exploded for 12.8 points per game and helped lead Michigan to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament.

Poole's breakout season caught the attention of NBA scouts, and he was selected 28th overall by the Golden State Warriors in the 2019 NBA Draft. He spent his rookie season developing in the G League, but he made his NBA debut in the 2020-21 season and quickly became a valuable contributor.

In the 2021-22 season, Poole took his game to another level. He averaged 18.5 points per game and helped the Warriors win their seventh NBA championship. Poole was named the NBA's Most Improved Player and was selected to the All-NBA Second Team.

Poole's story is an inspiration to anyone who dreams of achieving their goals. He never gave up on his dream of playing in the NBA, even when things were tough. He worked hard, persevered through adversity, and ultimately achieved his dream.
